Definitions:

- “Notional Balance” refers to the highest aggregate notional value in a given month of all Total Return Swaps (TRS) outstanding – this includes both TRS matched via the MTF and those imported onto the platform – for which the Member is a counterparty.
- “Collateral Optimizer”: automation tool that builds and rebalances baskets in line with user-defined constraints and market inventory.
- “Restricted List”: a predefined list of securities that are blocked from being included in trade baskets or used in collateral substitutions. Restricted Lists ensure compliance with internal policies, regulatory requirements, or client-specific mandates by automatically rejecting any activity involving the listed names.
- “Match More Names”: automatically upsizes existing imported trades by matching additional names from a user’s submitted long and short lists, without requiring a new trade.

3.2. Pay per trade

The “trading at mid” matching charge for Total Return Swaps varies depending on each participant’s contribution level, classified monthly into Gold, Silver, or Bronze tiers. These tiers are determined using a scoring system based on the quality of data contributions.

At the end of each month, participants are ranked based on their contribution score, which is calculated as:

- $\text{Score} = (\text{Number of best eligible prices submitted by the user}) \div (\text{Total number of best eligible prices across all users}) \times 100$

Best eligible prices are defined as:

- The oldest price submitted by 14:30 GMT,
- For a structure where the calculated mid is available,
- Within 15 basis points (or 20bps for Euro Tier 2, OMX, and FTSE/JSE T40),
- With notional \geq 50m of the relevant CCY (or 500m SEK for OMX, 875m ZAR for FTSE/JSE T40).

Based on the total scores:

- Gold = Top third of contributors
- Silver = Middle third
- Bronze = Bottom third

Please refer to the Data & Contribution User Guide available upon request at support@wematch.live for more information.

These classifications are reset each month.
